

DIES IN CHAIR AFTER FINAL APPEAL FAILS

Frantic Last-Minute Attempt to Save D. C. Murderer Made to Supreme Court

TWO OTHERS EXECUTED

Washington, Dec. 20.—(P)—Joseph D. Medley, 45, whose attorney for red-headed women carried him to the death house, died in the electric chair today.

Medley was pronounced dead at 12:49 p. m., after a frantic last-minute attempt by his lawyer to win a delay.

The last flicker of hope was extinguished by the supreme court less than half an hour before the suave gambler-killer went to his death.

The high tribunal for the second time in as many days refused to stay the electrocution for a lunacy hearing.

Medley, who died for the murder of a 50-year-old red-haired Washington divorcee, was claimed by his lawyer to be a victim of chronic alcoholic paranoia.

Thin and haggard, he paid with his life for the fatal shooting of Mrs. Nancy Boyer in her fashionable apartment here in March, 1945.

He and others had played poker at the apartment the previous night.

Earlier, the United States court of appeals had turned down a petition asking for the execution be stayed pending a lunacy hearing.

Medley's execution had been delayed for several hours while the appeals were pending.

Two negro murderers who were to have been executed with Medley won half an hour of life because of his brief stay.

They went to the chair shortly after 10 a. m. The District law requires that executions be carried out between 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. on the appointed day.

Jail Superintendent Curtis Reid ordered the electrocution of Medley delayed at least until later in the day pending action by the court on appeals on a petition for a lunacy hearing.

The court denied the petition appeal last night.

It was Medley's fatal affinity for redheads that headed him toward the electric chair. He was convicted of the fatal shooting of his sister-in-law, and Julius Fisher, 32, the so-called Washington cathedral murderer, died in the District of Columbia electric chair at 10:39 a. m. and 10:46 a. m., respectively.

Medley was sentenced to death for the fatal shooting of Mrs. Nancy Boyer, 50-year-old divorcee, in March, 1945. He was indicted, but never tried for the murder of a woman in New Orleans and was wanted in Chicago for questioning about a third.

The nude bodies of those two both were found in hotel bathtubs and both, like Mrs. Boyer, had red hair.

Testimony About Payment Of $1,500 In Narcotics Case Holds Bilbo Hearing Open

Washington, Dec. 20.—(P)—Clashing testimony about payment of $1,500 in a narcotics case held the Bilbo investigation wide open today as the story public hearings recessed for the Christmas holiday.

"I have nothing to hide," Senator Theodore S. Bilbo (D-Miss) told the senate war investigating committee yesterday as he denied repeatedly any knowledge of payments reported to have been made to him by a doctor for helping get a narcotics permit for a Natchez, Miss., man.

Bilbo also offered to open his private files to investigators seeking information on the narcotics allegation, or "anything else that has come up in these hearings."

Chairman Mead (D-NY) announced after Bilbo's testimony that the hearings were "recessed" subject to call of the chair. But Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), told a reporter later that additional testimony definitely will be necessary.

"It looks like the first Monday after Christmas (December 30)," Ferguson said, adding that the final decision is up to Mead.

Bilbo, after nearly a full day of testimony spiced with bitter denials and countercharges, finally acknowledged to the senators investigating his financial dealings with Mississippi war contractors, that he had received some money from Dr. A. J. Podesta, Vicksburg, Miss., who had requested the narcotics permit.

He vehemently denied, however, that he had any connection with the permit.

Instead, Bilbo said, any money he received—he could not remember whether it was $1,500, $1,000 or less—had been given to the Junior Grove Baptist church parsonage fund. Neither Bilbo nor Ferguson could find any record in the special purpose bank account to correspond with this donation.

The narcotics issue was thrust into the hearings—which Bilbo's opponents hope will lead to the unseating of the 69-year-old Mississippi—by Edward P. Terry, the Mississippi's nervous and ailing former secretary.

Terry, denounced by Bilbo yesterday as a "Judas Iscariot," was summarily dismissed as a witness Wednesday for refusal to answer questions regarding a $15,000 fund he had collected to beat his then employer.

Pittsburgh Hit By Driving Snowstorm

Pittsburgh, Dec. 20.—(P)—A driving snowstorm hit the city today, piling up more than an inch of snow in two hours and badly jamming traffic.

The snow, heaviest in the area, began falling at 10 a. m. and by noon sooty Pittsburgh was covered by a blanket of white.

Hilly streets and highways were nearly impassable and the weather bureau said the snowfall was general over the eastern part of the state.

All roads were slippery and cinder crews were called. The weather bureau expected the snow to turn to rain late today with the forecast calling for cloudy and somewhat warmer weather tomorrow.

The temperature in downtown Pittsburgh at noon was 29.

Surprise Maneuver In 'Fix' Charges

New York, Dec. 20.—Assistant District Attorney George P. Monaghan, in a surprise maneuver, moved to bring Alvin J. Paris, indicted on charges of attempting to bribe two members of the New York football Giants, to trial today in general sessions court.

Monaghan placed Paris' name yesterday on today's trial calendar. He declined to comment on his reason for having the case tried four days after the indictment was handed up by the New York county grand jury.

Defense counsel were expected, however, to request an adjournment.

Paris, 28-year old novelty concern officer, was indicted on the specific charges of attempting to bribe Frank Filchock and Merle Hapes, backfield players for the Giants in an alleged attempt to "fix" last Sunday's Giants-Chicago Bears championship football game. He has pleaded innocent.

MINE OWNERS IN SPLIT OVER NEGOTIATIONS

Hopes Dashed For Quick Nationwide Peace Between Coal Industry And Its Miners

AWAIT COURT DECISION

Washington, Dec. 20.—(P)—A sharp split among soft coal operators over whether to negotiate now for a new contract with John L. Lewis dashed hopes today for a quick nationwide peace between the industry and its miners.

Producers whose pits yield 60 percent of the country's coal held themselves ready to deal with the United Mine Workers' chief "at any convenient date," without waiting for a supreme court decision on his legal troubles arising from the November strike.

But the powerful Southern Coal Producers Association, whose mines produce a third of the 600,000,000-ton annual supply, broke away from the majority with a decision to hold aloof until the courts have had their say.

Far western mine owners indicated they would go along with the southerners.

The high court will hear on Jan. 14 Lewis' appeal from $8,510,000 in fines against himself and the United Mine Workers, imposed after the UMW chief ignored a district court order to head off the recent 17-day strike.

Long-pondering differences between the Southern Association, biggest single producing unit in the national negotiating committee, and the remainder of the industry broke into the open at a nine-hour meeting yesterday.

The committee was adjourned sine die, without any day set for reassembling—which meant there is scant chance of a national contract in the foreseeable future.

Whether negotiations might soon be started even between Lewis and the industry majority still was doubtful because:

1. Lewis balked at agreeing to a separate contract excluding the southern group when this was suggested in negotiations Sept. 11, after the Southern Association balked at meeting terms of the government-UMW pact which ended last spring's strike.

2. The fact that operators of the northern, midwestern and "capitive" steel company mines expressed willingness to meet with Lewis did not mean they would make immediate overtures to the mine leader.

3. Lewis himself has indicated he prefers to wait until the supreme court has decided his contempt appeal, which may be about Feb. 1.

One thing seemed clear: The next move is up to Lewis.

Old Couple Is Found Dead In Cleveland

Cleveland, Dec. 20.—(P)—Starvation in one instance and a heart attack in the other were advanced by the authorities today as possible causes of the deaths of aged Mr. and Mrs. William Madoc Roberts in their decayed, 20-room mansion here.

The couple were found on their bed in the only room in the house which gave any evidence of having been lived in in some time, after neighbors reported they had not seen Roberts, who was about 70 years old, for 16 days.

Mrs. Roberts, who was about 83 was said not to have been outside the old house, which once provided the background for the couple's former splendor, in 20 years.

Police entered the Cleveland Heights home through a window after seeing the couple lying on a bed. A dog, their only companion, trotted complacently along with the officers until they reached the bedroom. The dog refused to permit officers to enter and they were forced to shoot it.

Mrs. Roberts, once a gracious hostess, was found unclothed, her body emaciated. Her husband, formerly a music teacher, church organist and choirmaster, was fully clothed, even to hat and coat. They had been dead about two weeks.

They had lived in the house for 40 years.

TWO KILLED WHEN CAR CRASHES INTO A TREE

Lancaster, Dec. 20.—(P)—Two young people were killed early today as their car struck a tree at Beartown, 15 miles from here.

TRANSPORTS COLLIDE 2000 FEET IN SKY

Rare Presence of Mind of Co-Pilot Credited With Saving Lives of Almost Hundred Passengers

CRASH UNPRECEDENTED

Aberdeen, Md., Dec. 20.—(P)—Split-second reaction by two pilots were credited today with saving the lives of 85 passengers and crew members of two Miami-bound airliners which collided 2,000 feet in the air near here in an accident unprecedented in American commercial air travel.

None of the passengers suffered so much as a scratch, although both planes were damaged in the collision, which occurred in clear weather shortly after dark last night.

The co-pilot of one, a big, four-engined DC-4 Eastern Airlines craft carrying 50 passengers, said he saw the other, a two-engined Universal Airlines C-47, approaching from the left three or four miles north of Aberdeen. He pulled his ship up at the last instant and scraped over the top of the Universal plane, eastern officials said.

The co-pilot, R. Brown, of Miami, said he had "just a second or so" in which to avert disaster. The pilot of the Universal, J. B. Kuhn, also of Miami, told a reporter, "Brown saved the day."

A three-by-five-foot hole was ripped in the tail section of the larger plane, while the Universal, carrying 22 passengers and a crew of three on a charter flight, had a hole driven into the upper portion of the fuselage, its escape hatch jammed and its radio, radio and hydraulic system knocked out of commission.

Despite the damage, Henry Norris, of Cambridge, Mass., pilot of the Universal ship, brought it down safely at the Aberdeen proving ground field, while the Eastern plane was landed eventually by Kuhn, who was waiting at the airport, Washington, D. C.

The four-engined DC-4, cruising at about 230 miles an hour, apparently had overtaken the slower aircraft. The Universal plane, bound for San Juan, Puerto Rico, via Miami, left Newark airport at 5:08 p. m. EST. The eastern airliners departed at 5:12 p. m. from the same field, on a scheduled non-stop run to Miami.

Occupants of both planes, mostly vacationists and business men, reported little if any confusion at the time of their narrow escape, and most said they had been unaware of the extent of their danger. All, however, had lavish prizes for their escape.

Officials of the Civil Aeronautics Board, who questioned the EAL crew in Washington for hours after they landed, said it was the first time in American commercial air history such an accident had occurred.

Car Thief Nabbed By Police Radio

Harrisburg, Dec. 20.—(P)—Five minutes after the Pennsylvania state police put into operation a new inter-car mobile radio-telephone system two men were arrested on charges of stealing a car.

The most modern system of police communication was inaugurated yesterday by Governor Martin with brief ceremonies on the main steps of the capital.

Under the system, state policemen on patrol may instantly communicate with headquarters, or other troopers, by simply picking up a telephone handset from the dashboard of their patrol car.

The system had hardly been in operation when a man dashed into police headquarters at the state capital to report that while he was in one of the capital offices two men drove off with his car.

Immediately the word went out to all state police cars and Pvt. Luther R. Himes heard the description of the missing car over his radio telephone. Just then a car answering the description passed Himes along Route 22 and he gave chase, arresting the two men.

LOCK HAVEN SENIORS END ONE-DAY STRIKE

Lock Haven, Dec. 20.—(P)—Fourth of Lock Haven's senior high school students ended a one-day strike today against lack of action on demands for increased athletic facilities and abolition of corporal punishment.

J. F. Puderbaugh, superintendent of schools, said about 160 of the 500 students returned to class for a final day's session before start of a two-weeks' Christmas holiday vacation.

Puderbaugh said an "illegal absence" will be noted on the records of absentees unless they can prove otherwise.

Yule Programs Presented In Schools of Boroughs Today

School days for 1946 are over for Warren's public school pupils, final classes and Christmas festivities of one kind or another being held in each building this afternoon.

At the high school, there was considerable disappointment because the annual Football Assembly had to be cancelled this morning when swaters and letters failed to arrive on time. However, a double assembly was held Thursday morning, with carols by the choir and a student play.

Three one-hour assemblies were held this morning at Beatty school, when Meredith Jones, faculty member, presented "Among Those Present," a Christmas play. With David Harrington as announcer, the following were seen in the cast: Mrs. William Scott, Harriet Holmberg; Ginger Scott, Audrey Kiernan; Arlene Scott, Mary Hutchings; Wilma Scott, Fern Heiman; Marilyn Morris, Peggy Henderson; Mazie Brooks, Helen Kane; Mrs. Pierpont Morris, Carol Johnson.

At the conclusion of the play, Leslie Israel took her place at the piano for singing of carols to round out each one-hour period. Classes were dismissed at two o'clock this afternoon, so that Christmas parties might be held in individual rooms.

Pupils at the East street building had an additional treat this afternoon in the form of a special Christmas movie secured by the PTA. This was followed by home room parties, with refreshments and exchanging of gifts.

Shortly after lunch time students at the Johnson building on Wednesday morning, when students gave a Christmas play, advanced to that date to allow for this morning's showing of the Christmas movie secured by the PTA in cooperation with the East street unit. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments enjoyed in home room this afternoon.

The afternoon's program at Lacy building included program numbers by the children, a Christmas movie shared with McClellan building the Christmas story and carols. Parties and a treat (Turn to Page Twelve)

Proposal Of Ironworkers Under Study

Pittsburgh, Dec. 20.—(P)—The nation's vast steel fabricating industry today studied the CIO-United Steelworkers' proposal that the companies agree to extend present contracts until the union can work out a 1947 pattern with basic steel producers.

The request was made by Philip Murray, who heads both the CIO and the Steelworkers' Union, at the conclusion of a series of conferences held here by the CIO's top-ranking strategists—the 174 members of the wage-policy committee.

Murray declared the union's action "indicates a desire of the union to make a peaceable agreement in the industry."

The steel fabricators, which employ about 45 percent of the union's 653,000 members, use as their raw material the steel produced in basic steel plants. No time limit on the proposed contract extension was set. Most contracts involved expire February 15, as in the basic steel industry where contract negotiations are expected to begin about Jan. 15.

The CIO leader declared he did not expect fabricators to turn down the proposal—which contained the provision that the fabricators be willing to abide by the terms negotiated with the basic industry or accept the extension "in such other ways as may be mutually satisfactory to the union and company."

Murray explained that after basic steel contracts are approved, the union's wage-policy committee will meet again to plan a pattern for negotiations with fabricators.

Forecaster Promises A White Christmas

Pittsburgh, Dec. 20.—(P)—The weather bureau expected today that western Pennsylvania will have a white Christmas. A "light snow" was forecast for Tuesday.

For tonight, the bureau forecasts snow or sleet, turning to rain.

Vote On Atom Controls Will Be Postponed

Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 20.—(P)—Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko refused today to participate in a vote on a Canadian resolution providing that the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission approve "in principle" the American atomic control plan.

Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 20.—(P)—Soviet Russia today rejected a Canadian compromise proposal, calling for a "principle" of the American atomic control plan, and demanded a vote on her own proposal for a postponement of any decision on the U. S. plan at the present time.

The Soviet position was stated by Andrei Gromyko, who blasted hopes for unanimity on the Canadian proposal, already accepted by several nations to the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, including the United States and Great Britain.

BY MAX HARELSON

Lake Success, N. Y., Dec. 20.—(P)—The United States today accepted a Canadian compromise proposal providing that the United Nations atomic energy commission approve the principle of the American atomic control plan without deciding on the final wording.

The Canadian compromise was offered after Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko demanded other postponement of a final showdown on the American proposal.

Deer Massacre Results In 17 Being Fined Over $7,000

Harrisburg, Dec. 20.—(P)—Seventeen hunters—13 of them from West Virginia—have been fined and fined a total of $7,385 in the worst deer massacre in the annals of the state game commission.

Seth Gordon, executive secretary of the commission, said the deer slaying occurred near Wellsboro, in Tioga county, where the party of West Virginia and Pennsylvania hunters had established a camp.

"The men were arrested on charges of illegal killing of deer; illegal storage of venison; storage of illegal venison; and making false statements in obtaining non-resident licenses," explained Gordon.

"They were guilty of indiscriminate shooting at any deer that made its appearance and commission agents are still checking on the number of deer that were killed illegally," Gordon added.

"It was one of the worst deer massacres in the history of the commission," he declared, "and the fines were the highest ever levied on one hunting party in this state."

BULLETINS

Rio De Janeiro, Dec. 20.—(P)—A series of anti-Communist demonstrations last night—during which mobs stoned the party headquarters, burned a Russian flag, wrecked election billboards and beat a guardsman—followed an announcement that Brazil was withdrawing the second secretary from her Moscow embassy, at Russia's request.

Peiping, Dec. 20.—(P)—Chinese Communist guerrillas, smashing at the Peiping-Tientsin railroad, today pushed within threatening distance of Peiping's south airfield, a U. S. Marine air base.

Riverside, Calif., Dec. 20.—(P)—An all woman jury, bringing in a verdict at midnight after six hours' deliberation, today acquitted Mrs. Ruth Hitchner, 42-year-old socialite, of murdering her husband, Adam, 43, San Francisco civil engineer.

Carol Festival At Beatty Is Enjoyed By Crowd of 500

About 500 parents, friends and students assembled in Beatty school auditorium last evening for the annual carol festival presented by the school music department. Directed by Harry Summers and Twila Hoover, the program included selection by several school groups, as well as familiar carols in which the audience joined.

An attractive setting was provided with decorated Christmas trees, a large "Merry Christmas" banner in red and green and a large illuminated star overhead. This proved most effective in the concluding number, "Silent Night," sung by the combined choirs in the faint light of the trees and star.

Mr. Summers led the community singing and Miss Hoover was at the piano, the former having much fun by exhorting the different sections to bigger and better efforts.

Two former students, Ken Foreman and Lillian Ristau, were called upon for impromptu solos during the audience participation.

Groups heard were the blue-robed a cappella choir, in four lovely selection; the freshman girls' ensemble, singing "O Christmas Time"; the boys' quartet, singing "The Night Before Christmas"; seventh grade chorus, in four beautiful Christmas airs, and the orchestra, in a well played Christmas Fantasy and a Norwegian dance. Because of illness of Neil Swanson, the trumpet solo number was omitted and Joyce Smedley, pleased with "Silent Night" and "Adeste Fideles," played on the chimes. Concluding the combined choirs gave a Christmas cantata, "The Wondrous Story" by Kountz; the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah"; and the lovely and familiar "Silent Night."

Y. M. Kiddies In Christmas Party On Sat.

Boys of the YMCA will hold their annual Christmas party tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in the "Y" auditorium. It has been the custom for the boys to bring an inexpensive gift which is turned over to the Salvation Army for use in its program in aiding less privileged youngsters.

This year Santa Claus himself will be on hand to present the gifts to Lt. Ward Satterlee who will represent the Salvation Army. The Salvation Army Band, under the direction of Mr. Satterlee, will lead the boys in 10 minutes of carol singing after which a Christmas game will be played with prizes awarded to the winners. 48 minutes of sound movies, including Christmas films, cartoons and sports, will spotlight the program and will be followed by light refreshments.

The age limit for this party is 9 to 15 years inclusive. Lots of wholesale fun and fellowship is promised for all who attend so come on out fellows. Old St. Nick will be there to greet you.

FIVE WOMEN NEEDED

Mrs. Julia Decker, of the USES office 225 Pennsylvania avenue, west, is anxious to enroll five women between the ages of 21 and 35 for work on a possible night shift from midnight to 7 a. m. There is expected to be an opening for five women soon and Mrs. Decker is anxious to have women ready to supply when the demand comes.

ROOMS TO CLOSE

Attention is called to announcement that the Warren Relief Association rooms on Liberty street will be closed after Tuesday morning and will not reopen until the morning of Thursday, January 2. The association continues its good work among the needy, having given 50 food orders for Thanksgiving and continuing to deliver to the children hundreds of quarts of milk monthly.

FORMING CARAVAN

According to Chief Potentate W. E. Lutz, the caravan is already being formed to go to Erie January 8 for the Zem Zem Shrine ceremonial. Under the supervision of E. H. Mathis, a bus will leave here at 12:30 p. m., and return about midnight, and it is hoped many Warren county members will avail themselves of this opportunity for transportation.

ASSEMBLY CANCELLED

The annual high school football assembly, planned for this morning, was postponed because of the failure of the sweaters and letters to arrive. The sweaters and letters are usually handed out by some of the players, one at a time, and puns and anecdotes are sprung on the defenseless character while he is receiving his award. It was decided that it was best to wait until after the Christmas vacation, for the assembly really doesn't work out unless the sweaters are at hand.

Urges Protection of Water Pipes Against Cold Weather

A reminder that cold weather and freezing temperatures usually result in a number of frozen water pipes and meters if they are not properly protected was issued today by C. C. Arbogast, manager of the Warren Water Company. He pointed out that last winter there were 82 reported cases of frozen services and meters, although it was a comparatively mild winter.

Frozen water pipes can cause considerable inconvenience and expense to a family at any time. Mr. Arbogast stated, but it is especially important to avoid them if possible this winter because of the scarcity of pipe available for repair and replacement, the demand for pipe for the greatly needed new housing, and the fact that plumbers are still very busy and short-handed.

In most cases frozen water pipes can be avoided, he pointed out, if care is taken before freezing weather sets in to protect them properly. This can be done by wrapping all exposed water pipes—especially those located near outside walls—thoroughly with old newspapers, burlap, or rags. The same protection should be given to the water meter if it is located within the customer's premises. Every householder should also know where the shut-off valve is located and be sure that it is operating properly, so that in the event of a broken water pipe, water can be shut off promptly.

Mr. Arbogast also urged that the householder make his basement as snug as possible against cold and drafts by repairing broken window panes and using weather-stripping or rags around window and outside door frames. In homes having no basements, he said, water pipes should be protected in the same way except the job should be done even more thoroughly.

One of the chief causes of trouble is outside faucets used for hose connections. These should be turned off and drained during the winter months.

If the house is to be closed up for several days during the winter while the occupants are away, Mr. Arbogast urges that the householder inquire of the water company what special steps should be taken to avoid frozen pipes in case of a sudden cold snap. "It's pretty grim," he said, "to return from a trip or vacation and find that your water pipes have frozen and burst. But it happens to someone almost every winter. The water company will be more than glad to help our customers prevent this unpleasant occurrence, or to advise them on any other precautionary measures we've mentioned here."

On extremely cold nights, and recommends that the additional during extended cold snaps he preventive measure be taken of turning on the faucet highest in the house—usually in an upstairs bathroom—and letting it run all night. It need not be turned on more than a sixteenth of an inch, just enough to keep the water circulating through the pipes. It was pointed out that the cost of doing this is considerably less than the cost of repairs to a frozen pipe or meter would be.

Mr. Arbogast also mentioned that an extremely cold spell usually results in a flood of calls to the water company office asking for help on frozen services and that there is bound to be some delay in answering some of them, since it is impossible to handle all requests at once.

Sleepless Nights Often Result of "Kidney Fatigue"

Tired, overworked kidneys let your system fill up with poisons that should be eliminated. You often have to get up at night, can't get your rest and have nagging backache. Don't delay. Get Thompson's Bor-soma Tablets at your druggists and feel better quickly. (adv.)

KRIS KRINGLE, ALIAS GI JOE

Of all the holidays in the year, none is so peculiarly a "children's holiday as Christmas. Parents too poor to buy each other presents will somehow, somewhere, manage to scrape up some sort of a "visit from St. Nicholas" for their children.

It is particularly heartwarming, therefore, to know that some half million German children in the American occupation zone will have a good Christmas, with candy, fruits, brightly-lighted trees, toys and other gifts. And who is the Santa Claus? None other than that hard-boiled hombre, the tough-hearted fighter, your old pal, GI Joe—aided, abetted and encouraged by all the brass in the upper echelons.

Soldiers chipped in and imported $11,000 worth of oranges, nuts and figs from Italy. To a German kid, an orange is about as grand a present as a super-deuper electric train set would be to your Junior. Troops sent home for toys, made others themselves, bought still more from German manufacturers. For weeks, they have dropped their candy rations into boxes set up in post exchanges for the purpose.

So Germany's children will have their Christmas, like other kids throughout the Christian world. Who knows but what this spontaneous gesture by a bunch of unpolitical-minded GI Joes might do more to "deNazify" Germany's rising generation than all the speeches, pamphlets and arguments the Allies can muster?

NO TIME TO BUY

The Agriculture Department's Bureau of Agricultural Economics has hoisted a storm warning which American farmers cannot afford to ignore. This is no time to buy farm land, says the bureau, and it goes on to tell why not, in statistics of dire implication.

Farm land values went up another 14 per cent during the year ending last Nov. 1, and they are now only 11 per cent below the 1920 peak. In 15 states they have more than doubled since the 1935-39 period, and in 11 others they have reached a point 75 per cent above what they were less than 10 years ago.

What this means is, of course, as Secretary of Agriculture Anderson points out, that unless the brakes are fast applied to credit buying, farmers are in for another land crash such as struck them in 1920-21. And this time the blow may be even more severe, for more people have gone into debt to purchase farms in each of the last four years than in any other year since 1920. Farm mortgages went up an additional $80 million in the first six months of 1946, with the result that the total indebtedness of American farms now stands at $5 billion. Farmers now enjoying good incomes would do well to follow Secretary Anderson's advice by putting a little away for the rainy day when crop prices will come down and the value of the additional land they covet will slide proportionately—and by using excess money to retire debts and replace worn-out equipment.

ANOTHER LOST ILLUSION

One by one our illusions drop away. One by one the pat phrases of easy assurance are banished from our vocabularies.

First someone denied the magic qualities of spinach. Then a magazine writer set out to prove that it isn't safe to say of Henry Wallace that "at least he's sincere and courageous." And now a doctor informs us that it is equally unsafe to say of vitamins that "at least they can't hurt you."

Indiscriminate and prolonged taking of vitamins, says this physician, can contribute to an early death. That's a blow to the drugstore people, and it's a blow to us. We see nothing in prospect for ourselves but an unrelieved diet of meat, potatoes, vegetables and cynicism.

Those responsible for the action that will close all bars in hotels, clubs and taverns on Christmas Day are to be commended. It is a fine gesture that will be lauded far and wide.

Seemingly there have never been so many vendors of Christmas trees abroad in the land. And the queer part of it all is that all are selling trees.

Allocation of funds for the building of a recreation park and lake on the Tionesta creek is about the best Christmas present Warren has received in a long time.

With removal of building restrictions and priorities on materials, local contractors expect a boom in building in 1947. Warren needs homes.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

1926
David Beatty will arrive home this evening from Miami, Fla., where he is spending the winter, for a holiday visit with Warren relatives and friends.

The executive board of the Warren county council Boy Scouts will hold their regular monthly meeting tonight at the home of G. W. Olmstead, Ludlow, who will be their host to a 6:30 dinner, the meeting to follow.

This morning the flyer brought in a veritable train load of "go-bblers" from the southern states, designated for Warren meat markets. Crates after crates of the turkeys were piled on the station platform.

Carl Russo and Tony Fadell returned Saturday night from a week of successful hunting in Clearfield county, each man bringing with him a fine deer. Russo has had very good luck this year with his deer hunting, having brought home a large buck from Canada, besides getting this one last week.

Superintendent John G. Rossman, of the Warren borough schools, today announced that a survey conducted throughout the local buildings disclosed that 385 pupils have had scarlet fever. Of this number, 137 are in the high school and 97 in Beatty.

The fire department was called to 409 Hazel street at 7:05 this morning to extinguish a chimney fire in the home of J. Rudolph Tridico. There was no damage from the fire.

P. D. Belknap, local official of the Pennsylvania Railroad, today announced that two sections of the morning and evening dier to and from the East will be run every day from now until Christmas, except Sunday. The action is made necessary because of the large number of students and others going to their homes for the Christmas holiday.

Warren High school cagers they trounced a woefully weak Jamestown combine, 36-18, before a crowd of about 250 persons, mostly students.

BETTER DO YOUR CHRISTMAS CALLING EARLY

Lots of people have their hands full this time of year. At the telephone company, too, Christmas is always a busy season—particularly on out-of-town calls.

This year will be the busiest ever! You'll be wise if you start your "Christmas calling" early. If everyone waits till Christmas Eve, there will be many delays and some calls won't get through at all, particularly to distant points.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Breakfast Club Regulars

Just two flowers from an old-fashioned bouquet are Aunt Fanny (a trail bit of wisteria) and Sam Cowling (a posy of poison ivy), whose duets, both vocal and instrumental, are one reason why people get up early to hear ABC's "Breakfast Club." The Breakfast Club is heard at 9:00 a. m. Monday through Friday. Adv.

Glenda A. Gilmore
Is Eastern Bride

The marriage of Miss Glenda Arline Gilmore, daughter of Mrs. William Martin Gilmore, of Grove City, and the late Mr. Gilmore, to Allen Windsor Richards, son of J. S. Edgar Windsor Richards and the late Sir Edgar Windsor, of Scotland, took place today in the First Presbyterian church of Princeton, N. J.

The Rev. Frank Sergeant Miles performed the ceremony. The wedding luncheon which followed was served in Lawrence Lodge, Laurenceville.

The bride is head of the Latin department in Princeton High school, and, before going to that city, taught Latin in the local high school for nine years.

Mr. Richards is director of photography in Palmer Physics Laboratory, Princeton University.

After January 6, they will reside at 248 Moore street, Princeton.

LACY UNIT HAS
PLEASING PROGRAM

The regular meeting of the Lacy PTA was held in the school auditorium Tuesday evening. Following the business session, several delightful musical numbers were presented by Shirley Johnson and Nancy Odell, former Lacy pupils. Their duets were: "Mirthful Moments," by Englemann, for piano; Berenade, by Schubert, and Silent Night, for clarinet; Iris, by Renard, for piano.

Mrs. Roger Mahaffy read the Everybody reads the Times-Mirror.

PAK MEMBERS TO GO CAROLING
PAK's holiday program will include caroling by the PAK choir on Sunday; a Christmas dance at the Woman's Club on December 28, and a holiday tea at the First Methodist church on December 30. The choir will leave First Presbyterian bus at seven o'clock Sunday evening and will go to the Watson Home to present a Christmas program. They will also make a call at Warren General Hospital and upon a number of shut-ins in town.

TEACHERS HAVE PARTY
Approximately 65 borough teachers met at the YWCA activities building to enjoy the annual teachers' Christmas party. Miss Edna Thompson, of Beatty school, was general chairman of the party and presented a fine dinner. Following the feast the teachers sang carols. The party broke up early so the teachers could attend the carol singing in the Beatty school gym.

GIRL SCOUT PARTY POSTPONED A WEEK
The party originally planned for Girl Scouts who worked on the Christmas and other service projects, to be held on December 23, has been postponed until Monday, December 30.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT
Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hammerbeck announce the engagement of their daughter, Romaine, to Philip H. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips. No date has been set for the wedding.

DEFENSE EXIT CAN BEAT SMOOTHER PLAY
By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service
(This is the fourth of a series of six articles on the smoother play, probably the most fascinating play in bridge and the most difficult to recognize.)

There is frequently no defense against the smoother play, but on some types of hands the play can be prevented or defeated by the opponents.

On today's hand, which is the same as the one given yesterday, a defense against one type of smoother play is given.

clubs led, East refuses to win, but wins the second club. At this point, instead of returning a diamond, as he did in yesterday's article, East should return a heart. Declarer wins this with the king of hearts, and while he can go over to dummy with the queen of clubs, he will be able to take only one finesse.

When his ten of spades wins, he must cash his high heart and then lead a heart, throwing West in the lead. But West now can lead a diamond, as there still is one diamond in dummy.

If East leads the third diamond, he gives declarer the opportunity to ruff in dummy. If he leaves the diamond there, West has an exit play. Declarer can trump in his own hand, but he still must lose the king of spades.

Plan Musical At Sheffield Church

Sheffield, Dec. 20—At four o'clock Sunday afternoon, the following musicale will be given at the Methodist church and an invitation is extended to all in the community.

Organ, Luther's Cradle Hymn, Vibbard; He Shall Feed His Flock, from Handel's "Messiah"; Moonlight Over Nazareth, Diggie; Prayer, Wagner—choir. The Heavens Declare in Glory, Beethoven—Mrs. Raymond Davidson. Vocal solo—Holy Art Thou, Handel—Clair Dahlgren. Joy to the World, congregation. Scripture and prayer, Rev. Palmer Taylor. Vocal solo—The Christ Child, Coombs—Miss Evelyn Norlin. The First Noel and What Child Is This, old English carols—choir. Vocal solo—I Wonder As I Wander, Appalachian carol—Miss Beverly Jones. Bethlehem, folk song arranged by Dickinson; Shepherds' Christmas Song, Austrian folk song, also arranged by Dickinson—ladies' chorus. Offertory—Silent Night, Jesus, Thou Dear Babe Divine, Dickinson—Mrs. Milton Swanson. Arise, Shine, For Thy Light Has Come, Buck—choir. Silent Night, congregation. Benediction, Rev. Taylor. Threefold Amen. Postlude—March of the Shepherds, Mallard.

The Holy Communion will be observed in conjunction with the regular Sunday morning service in Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church and the pastor, Rev. William T. Lane, will deliver a short sermon on "Where Is He". The choir will sing two special selections.

In the evening at seven o'clock, the Sunday school will present its Christmas program, with a pageant by the older boys and girls, recitations, songs and other features by the younger folks. Tableaux by one of the classes will also be featured.

Also in connection with this evening service, Santa Claus is scheduled to put in an appearance for the enjoyment of the little folks.

Holy Communion At First Lutheran

Holy Communion will be administered at First Lutheran church on Sunday morning at eight and eleven o'clock. The choir will sing the "Cherubim Song" by Bortniansky.

The church school White Christmas Service will be held Sunday afternoon at five o'clock. The nativity story will be read and illustrated with beautiful colored pictures. The singing of carols will be led by the junior choir. The program is as follows:

Processional hymn—"On, Little Town of Bethlehem"; Invocation by the pastor; Scripture lesson read by Ronald Wood; Carols by the primary department—"As Each Happy Christmas Dawns" and "Little Children, Can You Tell"; The Christmas story read by Dean Swanson, John Kylander, Martha Ryberg, Carol King; A Christmas poem recited by Shirley Kohler, Mary Henning and Joan Leet; White Christmas Offering; Prayers and benediction.

The White Christmas offering will be divided among the following four institutions of the church in this area: Lutheran Home for the Aged, Erie; Bethesda Home for Children, Meadville; the Lutheran Old People's Home, Zelenople; The Lutheran Orphans' Home and Farm School, Zelenople.

Seasonal Events At Calvary Church

Christmas week activities at Calvary Baptist church will begin with the unified service and the study of the Christmas story in the Sunday school classes. At the worship hour, the choir will sing numbers in keeping with the season, and the pastor, Rev. C. L. L. Wessman, will speak on "Fear Not". At the 7:30 p. m. evangelistic service, there will be a song service led by James Holmberg, the choir to sing under the direction of Mr. Gustafson and the pastor to speak on "Peace on Earth When?". On Tuesday, a Christmas Eve service will be conducted at 11:00 p. m. On Wednesday evening at 7:00 p. m., the Sunday school will present a Christmas program, and on Friday evening, the Young People's Christmas party will be held at the E. Huber home.

Holiday Services in the Church

Church Notes

CHRISTMAS SCHEDULE AT COVENANT CHURCH
Services to be held in Bethlehem Covenant church, Market street near Third avenue, are as follows: Sunday—11:00 a. m., Rev. C. J. Fredeen, of Frewsburg, N. Y., will be the speaker; 4:30 p. m., vesper, with a song service by the choir under the direction of Miss Evelyn Samuelson and with Miss Adelaide Swanson as pianist. Rev. Fredeen will speak. Christmas Eve—Midnight Juletti service with message by Mr. Fredeen. Christmas Day—7:00 p. m., Sunday school Christmas program.

Many Activities At First Methodist

Both choirs of First Methodist church will appear in the processional for the Christmas Sunday worship service, to be held at 11 a. m. "Cradle Song of the Shepherds" by Hayne and "Peace and Great Joy" by Scholier are the anthems to be sung. Anthony Grassi, of Jamestown, N. Y., will sing the offertory solo, "Gloria in Excelsis". Organ music will include "Gesu Bambino" and "Christmas Postlude" by Yon. The pastor, Rev. Wayne Furman, will use as his sermon theme "The Gift of Everlasting Light". The church school will convene at 10:00 a. m., with the Christmas lesson being used in all departments. At 8:15 in the sanctuary the Sacrament of Baptism will be offered to children and infants. A committee headed by Mrs. F. L. Isaman, Jr., is cooperating with the different departmental heads of the church school in preparation for the White Gifts Service to be held in Founders Hall at 4:00 o'clock. The Men's Bible Class is in charge of the decorations.

Music Featured At Presbyterian

Rev. Harold C. Warren's sermon topic in First Presbyterian church this Sunday morning will be "In the Fullness of Time". Jackson Barrell will play as therelude two carols by Gordon Phillips, "This Endless Night" (Chorale Prelude) "First Noel" (Toccata). Two Anthems, "Love Come Down" by Cadyln and "Glory To God In The Highest" by Pergolesi will be sung by the Senior Choir and the offertory anthem, "Angels In The Night" by Edmundson will be sung by the ladies' chorus. At 4:00 o'clock there will be the presentation of the White Gift with all the departments of the Sunday school taking part. At 7:30 o'clock the choir will present a program of unfamiliar carols of other lands with the congregation taking part in the familiar ones. Everyone is requested to be present at the beginning of this service.

JULIETTA SERVICE CHRISTMAS MORN

The 20th annual broadcast of the Swedish matins, Julietta, from Trinity church in Chicago will be heard at 6 a. m. (EST) Christmas morning over Station WMAQ (670) through the courtesy of the National Broadcasting Company. The sermon will be preached by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Julius Lincoln, who once served First Lutheran church in Jamestown for a quarter-century and was one of the distinguished speakers heard at the Chandeliers Valley centennial this past summer. The service will also include several inspiring musical selections.

Marines To Have Benefits

A program designed to give men who reenlist or extend their enlistments in the Marine Corps benefit of choosing their overseas assignment, certain privileges prior to transfer overseas and selection of their duty station upon return from overseas is being inaugurated, announces Major V. E. Diehl, officer in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting District of Buffalo.

In order to keep as many trained men in the Marine Corps as possible, and retain its state of readiness and combat efficiency, the Marine Corps is encouraging reenlistments and extension of enlistments among its trained men. Men so doing may choose as their stations: China, Japan, Mariana Islands, Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska, Balboa, Canal Zone, Bermuda, Roosevelt Roads, Guantanamo Bay, San Juan, P. R., Trinidad, B. W. I., or Newfoundland.

In addition to choosing their foreign stations, men reenlisting or extending their enlistment will receive all accrued leave prior to departure if they so desire, and upon return have their choice of duty stations in the United States.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Dec. 17.—Mrs. Paul Cariburg and Mrs. Leslie Anderson entertained the Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, at the former's home Thursday afternoon with fifteen present. The president, Mrs. J. A. McIntosh, presided and several Christmas carols were sung with Mrs. Cariburg as pianist. Mrs. Guy Summerson led the devotion, reading the Christmas Story from Luke and two Christmas articles. Mrs. Hugh Sherrard, offered prayer. Mrs. McIntosh will purchase the society's gift for Overseas Sewing and the January meeting will be with Mrs. M. L. Johnson and Mrs. Summerson. Mrs. Josephine Rickard was program leader and opened the program with a candle light service, "Jesus the Light of the World," with all present taking part with lighted candles. Articles were reviewed by Mrs. C. L. Veness, Mrs. Sherrard, Miss Mame Hamilton and Mrs. Scott Stuart. Dr. Mrs. McIntosh gave a reading "Wise Men". The hostess served a two course lunch.

Mrs. W. C. Barlow entertained twelve guests at her home Wednesday evening at a variety show-party in honor of Miss Ruth Corder, who is soon to become the bride of Wallace Barlow. The evening was spent with games and contests, prizes going to Mrs. Charles Crayter, Miss Mabel Reese, Mrs. Russell Thompson and Mrs. Ellwood Barlow. Miss Corder received many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Barlow was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Jones in serving dainty refreshments with favors and decorations in pink and white. Out of town guests were Mrs. E. M. Corning, Youngville, MD, Mrs. Sanford Drake, Rusti, and Miss Marguerite Richmond, Jamestown.

A Christmas party was enjoyed Thursday evening by the American Legion and the Auxiliary, including all service men and wives. The home was decorated with a lighted tree and Christmas greens. A turkey supper was served and the evening spent with games.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Martin, of Westfield, N. Y. and Raymond Richardson of Cleveland, O. were Sunday guests of Mrs. Pearl Brookmire.

Pvt. Robert Eccles, stationed at Scott Field, Ill., spent the weekend with his family. Mrs. W. C. Barlow, entertained the Embroidery Club Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent with sewing and the hostess served delicious refreshments. Everybody reads the Times-Mirror.

Youth Of The Community To Have Parties On Monday

Any boy or girl in Warren will be welcome at the community Christmas party for children from the first through the sixth grades on Monday afternoon at Beaty school. The party starts at two o'clock and will last until four o'clock, with an auditorium show, games and refreshments for everyone.

All P. T. A. units, every school in the borough, and the Girl Scout leaders are cooperating with the Committee on Community Recreation and the Community Council P. T. A. in this children's party. The schools are furnishing the auditorium entertainment and the Girl Scout leaders are handling the games in the gymnasium.

The "Welcome Speech" will be given by Sheila Long and Dennis Pratts of the first grade at South street school. There will also be a song by this school's fourth graders. Home street school's contribution to the program will be a recitation, "What Can I Do?" by Douglas Hanson and a song, "Light Your Candle", by Betty Kulp.

There will be two little dancers, Rita Musante, from Seneca school, and Betty Ann Pasquino, from Johnson school. Another Johnson school number will be a duet, "Silent Night", sung by Annabelle and Sperry Harvey and Rosanne Cochran will play two clarinet solos.

East Street school is presenting Janet and Joyce Furman and David Glassman in a violin trio with four numbers:—"Cradle Hymn", "O Little Town of Bethlehem", "Silent Night", and "O Come All Ye Faithful". Four young pianists from Lacy school, Nancy Buchanan, Joan Andrews, Helen Rosen, and Marianne Odell, are playing "Jingle Bells" with accompaniment on the bells by Sandra Berglund. McClintock school will be represented by Frances Spatafore in a piano number.

Mrs. Arthur Soderholm and Mrs. J. E. Decker are co-chairmen of the Girl Scout Leaders' committee on games. The chairmen of the mothers' committee from the schools are Mrs. Gerald Johnson, Seneca; Mrs. Kenneth Fowler, Johnson; Mrs. Fred Shattuck, South street; Mrs. Russell Hanson, Home street; Mrs. Helen Long, East street; and Mrs. Harry Rosen, Lacy.

Mrs. Walter Mathyer has had Monday evening's Christmas community party will open the holiday season for Beaty school young people. Clyde Smith and Joanne Brickson are again in charge of this second community party of the year planned solely for the seventh, eighth and ninth graders. All committees have been posted on the bulletin board in Beaty school.

Betty Scrivano will be the first girl to emcee a floor show for the junior high school group. Four acts have been selected from the two floor show auditions, which were well attended and showed promise of good numbers for future performances.

Jean Marlette, vocalist, will make her first community party appearance Monday night with a couple of songs. The committee predicts that her "Lamp-lighter" will be a hit number. L. G. Furman will be heard again with two numbers appropriate to the party theme, "White Christmas" and "Silent Night". Peggy Henderson will be accompanist for both young vocalists.

Nancy Geracimos will appear in the beautiful "Dance of the Dying Swan", with Nula Cheronis as her accompanist. Nancy Sturdevant, who showed what she could do with an accordion at a party for the older group, will be heard in three numbers. They are "Santa Claus Is Coming To Town", "Oh, Buttermilk Sky", and "Medley of Christmas Carols".

Bob Dobbs' Orchestra is furnishing music for dancing in the gymnasium, from the time the doors open at 8:15 until the end of the party at 11 o'clock. There will also be dancing in the dance instruction room and table games and ping pong in the game rooms. All committee members are asked to be sure of their responsibilities, checking with their chairmen.

The name cranberry or cranberry refers to the resemblance of the bud and stem to the head and neck of a crane.

Setting, Props and Lines Were Alike; Audience Recalled Departed Star

F. D. R. Jr. The same voice...

Same Smile...

Same lines forming in the face

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
Washington — (NEA) — Except for some of the sounds and some of the props it was like seeing a ghost. And the setting was only three blocks away.

Down the street from the White House a short piece, in the Washington headquarters of the American Veterans Committee, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., AVC's housing chairman, held a press conference.

For the newsmen present who were also veterans of F.D.R. Sr.'s now-historical sessions with the press there was a distressing feeling of having been there before. It was as though father had carefully tutored son on the technique and son had been an apt pupil.

There was the same long wait for things to get started. Under F.D.R. White House conferences never got under way on time. Sometimes there was as much as an hour's delay. F. D. R. Jr. made it an even half hour.

When he finally did arrive it was a dramatic entrance with a mumbled apology. Senior never did apologize for the lateness. But like his father he grabbed the show immediately. With a charming smile—an amazingly exact facsimile—he got off an opening statement. Like his father, he quickly paid off for a journalistic favor. He thanked the Washington Daily News for having printed an editorial praising AVC that afternoon.

It would have been too obvious if he had used a long cigarette holder. But he used a cigarette to punctuate his remarks with the same expansive flourishes his father used to use and with almost the same effectiveness.

Several of the facial expressions looked awfully familiar; the blinking of the eyes after what he considered a piece of good repair, the downward twist of the mouth after a little barb of sarcasm, and then the lowering of the eyes waiting for the duty laugh from the press. And the face is beginning to get some of the same lines from the extensive use of some of the same smiles. The same lines are forming under the eyes, too.

Like his father, he has to have questions phrased to suit himself. If he doesn't like a question, he'll ask it in his own words and then answer it.

It was a real shock to hear the first reporter address him as Mr. Roosevelt. "You always thought of it as only, 'Mr. President.'"

Perhaps one of the most striking resemblances is the voice. "Power" is "powah." "Are" is "ah." "War" is still "wah."

The old Roosevelt spell over female reporters was there. They looked at Junior in much the same fashion as they worshipfully watched Senior. They laughed louder at the right places and took notes more industriously at the right time. They asked their questions coyly.

There was only one woman in Washington who never succumbed to the Great Father's spell. She is Mae Craig, representative for a string of Maine papers. Her rapport with the President frequently made headlines. He never succeeded in squelching her as he loved to squelch the rest of the reporters.

To show her continued disdain of the Roosevelt name, she looked in on the show being put on by the son. She stood in the door with a faint smile on her face. She didn't even think it worth enough to ask a question.

Genuine Treat

The music lovers of Warren and surrounding communities were privileged to hear on Sunday afternoon one of the finest presentations of Handel's "Messiah" ever given in this city. The tenor, Edward Nyborg, gave a warm interpretation, with perfect diction. His Comfort Ye and Every Valley were high spots of his solo work. Alice Mack, the contralto, sang with beautiful phrasing and was at her best in the He Was Despised air. Evan Evans needed no introduction to a Warren audience and was warmly welcomed by all. His oratorio work is excellent and it is hard to say which number was the best, but his Who May Abide the Day of His Coming was an emotional highlight. Anne McKnight, who is singing the soprano solos in the "Messiah" in Carnegie Hall in New York tonight, expressed a sincerity of interpretation through her clear diction and beautiful voice.

First Methodist church was beautifully decorated with garlands of laurel and pine and illuminated by candlelight. The way to the altar was lighted by tall candles and large candelabra were placed under the chancel window. This setting, with appropriate responsive reading and litany, provided a worshipful atmosphere for the presentation of this great oratorio. The sanctuary and Cray Chapel were filled to capacity shortly after the doors opened at three o'clock; Founders Hall, being equipped with a public address system, was filled, and many were turned away. The First Methodist choir, augmented with other outstanding vocalists of the community, was under the direction of Byron Swanson. The choral work of this group was of the highest standard of musicianship. Their attacks and releases, the dynamic shading, depth of interpretation, and response to the conductor, all combined to make a superb production. From the playing of the chimes by Dean Bear to the dying away of the last Amen of the Nunc Dimittis, written especially for this occasion by Dr. LeRoy Campbell, it was a musicale long to be remembered and one which served to heighten the esteem of musically-minded people for Byron Swanson, Warren's very talented choral conductor, and Evelyn Wolstencroft, who so ably played the very difficult organ accompaniment.

Leaders Are Cut Down By Profit Taking

BY VICTOR EUBANK
New York, Dec. 20—(AP)—Individual stocks continued in the recovery van of today's market many leaders were cut down by profit taking on Thursday's bulge.
Dealing, fast at the opening, soon slowed and extreme gains of fractions to a point or so were reduced or cancelled. There were subsequent comebacks here and there but slightly mixed tendencies prevailed near the fourth hour.

drying up of sales to establish

"A tree is one of nature's words, a word of peace to man,
A word that tells of central strength from whence
all things began,
A word to preach tranquility to all our restless clan."
—H. Kelso.

And one of the most appreciated trees is the Christmas Tree—one of the best known is the Christmas tree grown in plantations with great care by Yule Tree Farm.
We have a small number of the finest trees remaining at our Akeley salesroom, where you may also obtain many of Dame Nature's lovely bedeck-ings—Holly, Mistletoe, Green Boughs, Ground

BAKERS CLEANERS PILE SCORE OF 73 POINTS UP OVER FORGE IN "Y" CITY LEAGUE TANGLE

The Baker's Cleaners cage quint, leading in the Y City League and with two wins in their start in the A. M. C. League, showed strength and determination to hold the top spot as they scored 73 points over the National Forge team while allowing them only 19 counters. Substitutes were thrown in furiously in an effort to stop the massacre but the subs scored as consistently as the starters. The forgers put up a valiant fight, with three field goals and a perfect three for three foul shot record and were not a team to give in easily.

In the other game the Struthers Wells combine, tied for second place with O'Connors of Sheffield, closed with and defeated G. G. Greene's entry by a 33-17 score. When the fans saw the Struthers and Baker's teams in action last night, they really saw some strength. "Leak" Conroy scored 16 points to lead the winners in the Baker-Forge game while Bill Weidert hit 11 and Tom Juliano scored 10 to lead Struthers in their game.

A change in the schedule of the City League has been reported and follows: On Thursday, Dec. 26th, Bakers will play Sylvania in the first game instead of Greene's vs. Sylvania. On Thursday, Jan. 9th, Greene's will play Sylvania in the first game instead of Bakers and Sylvania. The second games will remain as they are on both dates.

An Monday's games Bakers will be into the Town Taverns at 7:30 and the Times-Mirror will play the National Forge in the 8:30 game.

GAME WARDEN IMPOSTORS PLEAD GUILTY

Fred Holcomb and Howard E. Paden, both of Grand Valley and employees at the Warren State Hospital, were arrested and brought into Police Court in the office of Justice of the Peace Tracy Greenlund yesterday morning on a charge of impersonating a State Game Warden. The arrest was made by J. L. Lattiman, Game Protector of Corry, Cpl. Theodore Hubley and Pvt. John M. Hornick, of the Corry State police barracks. The officers apprehended one of the boys at the State Hospital and the other at his home.

The boys pleaded guilty to the impersonating charge and to that of taking the gun, shells, and a spotlight from Orren Smith, residing near Trimmis Corners, Eldred Township, while assuming the role of a warden. They are being held over for the next term of court on $500 bail.

The robbery took place on December 6th, in the very heart of deer season, in Eldred Township when Smith had fallen asleep after going to his car to get warm while hunting. He was awakened by two men who said they were game wardens. They gave him the

Baby Dragons Tangle Beaver Jayvees At 7:15; Varsity Teams Clash 8:30 At Beatty

The Corry Beavers, with another win under their belt since their meet with Warren through the 22-25 drubbing of Union City last Tuesday night, will be back with blood in their eyes when they tangle with the Dragons. The Warren seconds will meet the Corry Jayvees in the preliminary at 7:15 and will try to repeat the overwhelming victory they pulled over them in their initial meet.

The Baby Dragons allowed Corry only ten points in the game. At 8:30 p. m. the Varsity teams will meet, and it is hoped that the Dragon's home floor will give them the advantage.

Corry really shows the strength in the first half of the game when they usually pile up a good lead which is the case in their game with Union City. A paragraph or so from the Corry Journal's account of the game will be given and Warren fans will find that it sounds just like the account of the first Warren-Corry game.

Jack Wilson and Danny Dykes lived up to expectations, getting 14 points apiece to start the high scoring honors.

It is expected that the Baby Dragons will have little trouble, but in the varsity game with Dykes and Jack Wilson doing the shooting and Geertson, Bugbee and Ken Wilson on the boards, Warren will really have to work as they worked without faltering at Corry.

Although Warren is noted for her ball teams they are also noted for their beanpole tendencies. This year's team, though, doesn't compare in height with the Dragons of last year. It is believed that they have a fighting spirit that is not beaten by the former team.

Gail Nelson, as his brother before him, is expected to be the big luck for the Dragons tonight and is capable of fast breakaways that startles onlookers. Although beaten in the Kane game, it was by superior force—force that showed that the Wolves couldn't miss the hoop—that won over the Dragons, but Nelson showed up in a way that cannot be forgotten.

Although Nelson is the outstanding player on the team, and it is hoped that the big sophomore will be for two more years the other players must not be neglected in singing praises. Dick Reed was a gem at center, but he is now lost with a sprained ankle for a couple weeks. It is expected that Sig Decker will do the center work and Ted Shattuck will take over at forward. Decker's feats need not be rehearsed for it is known that he gives the game his all and is continually on the ball. Shattuck showed up fine in his longest period in varsity play Tuesday at Jamestown and even came out the high scorer despite his substitute role. Ed Wollaston will also be on hand, now that his injured knee is better, to fill in in the Dragon squad. Fred Weigle whose good boardwork, shooting, and guarding makes him good in any position, can be counted on to do his share. Buzz Crocker rounds out the possible starting five, and will be valuable in the passing division, along with shooting from the left court.

It is expected that the Dragons will have trouble tonight but they are expected to win, for the sake of having a good team this season—and the next few games will decide the issue—and for the absent player.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 20—(AP)—Figuring some angles: Syracuse U. is more than a bit annoyed at Biggie Munn's hurried departure for Michigan State. . . . One suggestion (heard from at least two sources) is that Michigan State wanted him to support its effort to become the tenth member of the "Big Ten." . . . Munn has the background and popularity in the Western Conference that Michigan State needs; the Spartans' rival for the conference spot is Pitt, which has the same sort of a guy in Wes Fesler, plus a strong western football schedule for next fall. . . . Question is where Biggie improved his position. Syracuse Alumnus agreed to match the salary offered and Munn may find himself on the bottom in a scramble for talent. . . . One result of the Syracuse peeve is that Eds. Eysinger, an assistant these many years, may be upped to the head coaching job—but even that isn't sure. . . . Another update coaching story has O. Da Grossa going from Holy Cross to Colgate, with a number of interesting changes to follow. But Colgate's athletic department hasn't met to consider Andy Kerr's successor and Da Grossa ain't talking—except about what a heck of a cold he picked up on the mashed potato circuit.

Deer Teacher

Jimmy Nelson of Ludlow, Pa., was reciting in English class last school the other day when the teacher interrupted. "Jimmy get your gun." . . . She wasn't quoting an old song, either. . . . Jimmy took a look, dashed out the back door and returned with his rifle.

decide the issue—and for the absent player.

He slid up to the window and bagged an eight-point buck. . . . Nine deer had wandered into the school yard.

One-Minute Sports Page
The first welterweight title fight on record—in Nat Fleischer's book—took place 54 years ago this week when mysterious Billy Smith knocked out Danny Needham. Another will take place tonight and it's a good bet that Ray Robinson will knock out Tommy Bell. . . . Ace Parker, 33 years old and expected to retire from pro football, will get his third shot at major league baseball next spring because the Cubs need a hard-hitting shortstop. Ace led the piedmont League hitters last summer.

To the Citizens of Warren County and Vicinity

The Kalbfus Dam Recreational Area on the west branch of the Tionesta creek at Buchers Mills, may now be regarded as an approved project. It has been accepted as one of the many such planned areas on Governor Martin's program to develop the natural resources of the state, in hope of attracting greater numbers of tourists, sportsmen and pleasure seekers to spend their vacations here.

While this Warren County project was sponsored by the Warren Field and Stream Club, the club fully realizes that final approval by the governor's office was due to the teamwork of many clubs, associations and individuals, who with the assistance and co-operation of our local newspaper, the representatives of our county and state political organizations, gave whole-hearted and active support.

Due to the fact that so many agencies were involved, the Field and Stream Club wishes to take this opportunity to thank each and every organization or individual who assisted in working out this plan; making the lake and recreational area a reality.

New Officers Gay Holiday Frolic Planned Are Chosen At Warren's Many Night Spots By Foundation

At a meeting held by the Warren County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the following officers were elected for the coming year: C. Henry Nicholson, chairman; Lenore Thurston, vice chairman; H. B. Meacham, treasurer; Ann McGary, treasurer; Giddings B. Tiffany, Pittsburgh representative of the National Foundation gave a very interesting talk on the work of the national organization during the most recent nationwide epidemic, and made an appeal for continuance of the enthusiastic work of local chapters. Mr. Meacham presented a report in detail of all assistance that has been given to those in this county afflicted with the dread disease, and pointed out that the local chapter has carried its responsibility by contributing generously to those persons from Warren county who were hospitalized for the disease. This, it was pointed out, is in line with the policies of the national organization. It was reported that the Zonta Club will sponsor the fund-raising activities during 1947 as it has done for the past several years. All present extended to the Zonta Club, through its president, Mrs. McGary, a vote of thanks and appreciation for its splendid efforts in past campaigns.

With the advent of the holiday season when hearts are aglow with good spirits the various nighteries of the community have arranged a jolly weekend for the many who enjoy the fun. At the Marconi Club, where for the past two weeks a most clever floor show has been presented, the show that really should top the one just departed. The acts are all headliners and with the good music for dancing the club should enjoy a fine weekend. Christmas decorations have been placed and the club is anticipating a big holiday season. As usual on Friday evenings no admission charge is being made but the charge goes for Saturday and Sunday evenings. Reservations are now being made for the New Years party and the committee in charge is arranging for a most delightful occasion. Roseland Ballroom at the Recreation Center is being decorated for the holiday season and Bob Williams in charge of the merry making at this popular resort is planning a gay holiday season. Many delightful features are being planned and with good music of Fort Warrers and his band the weekend should find many enjoying the fun and frolic at this resort. The Moose and Veterans of Foreign Wars have planned a good time for the weekend and Ben White down at the Town Barn will have the usual round and square dancing with big crowds and plenty of fun. The White Swan ball room at Wrightsville also promises plenty of fun and the other dancing parties about the county should enjoy good crowds.

Alias Santa Has Field Day Counting Checks and Money

Old Alias Santa took a look at the pile of envelopes on his desk this morning and a broad smile spread over his features and he tucked into his big bandana and snorted into it once or twice. His eyes twinkled and down his cheeks rolled a tear or two as he opened the first envelope and found a crisp ten dollar bill from L. E. Erickson. And he fairly ebullient with glee as he found $26 from the Freshmen's Girls Club of the Teen Age Department of the LW

CA. Another check of five from anonymous; one dollar and then came a check for $5 from the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion. This was followed by an envelope containing $2.30 in cash and some fellows who just did not want anyone to know of their warm hearts sent in $25. Each year a fine card is received from L and M with a one dollar bill and it was on hand this morning. Two cash gifts of $5 and $1 rounded out the morning mail.

Candles Used In Services Are a Hazard

Fire Chief Although this morning notified the Times-Mirror that he is opposed to the use of candles in Christmas pageants and pantomimes and also the use of straw in decorations. Chief Although says that tota wearing flimsy dresses need to have the flames only brush such a dress and it would be a mass of fire. The flames would travel like wild fire in the groups and a catastrophe would result. Use of straw in scenes is also under the ban of the chief as it creates a strong fire hazard.

Chief Although has already had the matter up with several of the pastors of Warren churches where candles were to be used in the features of the Christmas programs and where straw was being used in manger scenes. Already several of the pastors have agreed not to use such decorations and candles in the hands of little ones. The practice is really dangerous and Fire Chief Although is receiving commendation for his efforts in preventing a tragedy.

Moose Hold Happy Event For Children

Warren Lodge No 106 of the Loyal Order of Moose held its annual party last evening for children of the lodge members. There was a large turnout of the kiddies and a bus picked up the children from the Hoffman Home and brought them to the Moose building for the occasion.

The committee in charge had arranged a most happy event for the children and the hall had been decorated in a holiday manner and a huge Christmas tree with gay lights and trimmings captivated the little ones. Heaps about it were heaps of gifts and there was candy, nuts and fruit for all.

Old Santa Claus arrived later in the evening and had charge of the disposition of the remembrances to the children and the event was a most happy one. During the evening a group of young folks from the Williams School of Dancing gave a delightful program of entertainment for the eager little kiddies and the event will be one long remembered by them.

ST. JOHN'S DAY PLANS A joint committee from the two Masonic lodges in Warren, with Robert H. Trusler as chairman, is completing plans for the annual St. John's Day observance to be held in the Masonic Temple in Liberty street Friday evening, Dec. 27th, at eight o'clock, to be concluded with buffet luncheon. The speaker will be the Rev. Norman Peterson, of the Centenary United Church of Canada, Hamilton, Ont. It will be his third appearance in Warren, having talked to the Purchasing Agents' Association two years ago, and to the North Warren Civic Club last February. Tickets are on sale by members of the committee and may be had at the Temple. A detailed outline of the program will be printed later.

Kresge Store Employees Get Gift of Cash

The S. S. Kresge Company employees, again this Christmas, will receive a cash remembrance in accordance with Kresge's long established custom. All employees in the Company's service prior to December 7, 1946 will participate. Announcement of the 1946 Christmas Remembrance was made by Mr. Wood, manager of Kresge's local 5c to $1.00 store. This continues, in expanded form a policy which the Company has followed for more than twenty-six years. Also, in accordance with procedure of the past several years, cash gifts will also be sent to each of the Kresge men and Kresge women still in the armed forces. Length of service in the Kresge Company employ determines the individual amounts of the gifts. This remembrance will include 62 Kresge employees here in Warren, Mr. Wood said.

Girl Scouts Will Sing At Store Tuesday

About 40 Girl Scouts who have been rehearsing diligently under the able direction of Mrs. Emil Jacobson will be heard in a special Christmas carol presentation at the Metzger-Wright store on Tuesday. Given with the public address system, the program will first be heard at two o'clock, and repeated at three o'clock. In addition to the vocalists, the program will be augmented with violin accompaniment played by Joyce and Janet Furman, Nancy Cannon will be heard on the clarinet and Maxine Weld will accompany with the bells. The Three Kings are represented by Dawn Taft, Joyce Furman and Arlene Rydgren. The girls and Mrs. Jacobson have spent a great deal of time in preparation of their carol program and the results are sure to be pleasing.

County Farms Produce Much Value In Crops

The advance report on the U. S. Agricultural census for this county has just been issued and it shows some most interesting facts relative to farm life in the county. According to the census there are 194,351 acres of land in the farms of the county with an average size per farm of 102.7 acres. The value of farms and buildings is $5,687,777. Agricultural machinery owned on the farms amounts to $1,687,688.

Many of the farms in the county are modernized and 918 farm houses are equipped with running water and 1,103 have electricity. On the farms there are 1,592 radios and 891 have telephones. There are 369 motor trucks on the farms of the county and 817 tractors while 1402 automobiles are owned by the county farmers. The average age of farm owners 51.5 years and the average age of farm tenants 44.1. Cash paid out in farm labor amounts to $256,586. An interesting feature is the sale of farm products which amounted in all to $8,274,590 which is divided as follows: fruits and nuts sold $10,087; vegetables sold $38,299; horticultural products $83,136; livestock and livestock products sold $2,444,540; dairy products sold $1,635,362; poultry and poultry products $287,390; livestock and livestock products sold (other than dairy and poultry) $321,758; forest products sold $64,918. In addition to the value of products sold the farm products were used in farm households $415,324.

Meters Emit Large "Take" For the Week

The parking meters of Warren gave out a substantial amount this week, almost setting a new record for a one week's take. Close to $1.50 per meter was taken in, because of the heavy traffic of deer season and the gigantic shopping crowds. A total of $282.00 was taken in the old meters this week and $94.63 was taken in on the new meters on Pennsylvania avenue.

Although plaques on the meters state that no money need be inserted on week nights, and that Friday and Saturday are the only nights to be plugged until 9 p. m., some Casper Milquetoast characters probably put pennies in the machines just to be on the safe side.

Although it has not yet been confirmed in Warren of the pipe posts on which the meters are set, nor is it likely to be, but in Pittsburgh when they were putting in new meters and just the pipes had been put up, many drivers with Milquetoast tendencies put coins in the pipes just to be on the safe side. No checkup was made in Warren when the meters were put on the pipes which had set topless for a week or so, but it would not be surprising if a few nickels were found in the pipes.
